NHS Property Services' new facilities management platform

CORE ✕

WELCOME TO CORE

As part of the improvements we are making to our FM services, we are delighted that we will soon be launching, CORE, our new facilities management platform.

CORE aims to provide a more reliable and efficient facilities management service by logging, planning, and monitoring facilities management activities you receive, including reactive and planned, through one system.

This will transform the way we deliver our services to you.

The benefits will be

Greater first time success as engineers will be better informed so you can be confident the right person with the right equipment will turn up.

Better communication with a new, easy 'request an update' form and real-time email updates (coming end of June).

Increased levels of building compliance and transparency of reporting.

More accurate expected completion times since we will be automating and monitoring the process and gathering better data.

More accurate monitoring of assets so we know when to update or replace an asset.

Real-time reporting which will enable us to develop SLAs and KPIs.

MAKING THE CHANGE

To realise the benefits of CORE, we will be switching off the MiCad customer portal on 29 May 2019 and replacing it with a new online form. This will go live on that day at:

www.property.nhs.uk/CORE

Reporting a non-urgent FM issue

All non-urgent FM requests and faults should be submitted via this form. From the end of June, you will receive an email notification when you log a job, which will include the job number and expected completion time, and another email when the engineer has completed the work.

Requesting an update on your job

To help you track your job, the online form will have functionality to request an update on your job's status.

Accessing compliance certificates

You should also use the online form to request a compliance certificate, filling out all the necessary details. NHS Property Services will then provide you with the certification you need.

Reporting an urgent FM issue

For emergency or urgent FM service issues, please call the NHS Property Services FM Helpdesk on 0808 196 2045. This number is free for you to use and available 24/7, 365 days of the year.
